E G M O N T.

J O H N P E R C E V A L, earl of Egmont, was born at Westminster, on February 24, 1711, and after a learned education at home, and a further improvement by visiting foreign countries, was chosen in 1731 (though then under age) a burghess for Dingley; and on December 31, 1741, unanimously elected representative for the city of Westminster; as he was in 1747 for Weobly in Herefordshire. In March, 1747, he was appointed one of the lords of the bedchamber to Frederick, late prince of Wales, in which station he continued till the death of that prince. On April 17th, 1754, he was elected a member at the choice of the last parliament for the borough of Bridgwater, in the county of Somerset; and on January 9, 1755, being sworn one of the lords of his majesty's most honourable privy-council (in Great Britain) then took his place at that board accordingly. He was likewise appointed one of the privy-council upon the accession of his present majesty to the throne; and was again elected to the last parliament in April, 1761, for the borough of Ilchester, in the county of Somerset, and likewise the next day re-chosen for the said borough of Bridgwater water, for which place he made his election. On May 7, 1762, his lordship was called up to the house of peers in Great Britain, by the title of lord Lovel and Holland, of Enmore, in the county of Somerset (two of those Baronies as before observed, which were forfeited by attainder of Francis, viscount Lovel, in the first of Henry VII.) in regard to his relation (as well by consanguinity as descent, both by the male and female line, as above deduced, from that branch of this noble family) and took his seat in the house of lords accordingly, on the 10th of May then next ensuing. On November 27, 1762, the king was pleased to appoint him one of the post-masters-general, in the room of the earl of Besborough. Resigning which employment on September 10, 1763, his lordship was on the same day appointed first commissioner for executing the office of lord high admiral of the kingdoms of Great Britain and Ireland, and of the dominions, islands and territories thereto belonging, which office he also resigned in September 1766. On February 15, 1736-7, he married the lady Catharine Cecil, 2d daughter to James, late earl of Salisbury (by the lady Ann Tufton, 2d daughter and coheir to Thomas, earl of Thanet, by the lady Catharine Cavendish, daughter and coheir to Henry Duke of Newcastle.) Her ladyship died at Charlton, Kent, on August 16, 1752, aged 33 years and 10 days, days, and was buried there, having had issue five sons and two daughters, viz. 1st. John-James, lord viscount Perceval, born in Pall-Mall, Westminster, January 23, 1737-8. His lordship in 1760 was appointed a captain of dragoons in lord Robert Sutton's regiment of royal forresters; and in April, 1762, was promoted to a company, with the rank of lieutenant-colonel, in the first regiment of guards, and served in the allied army, in Germany, under prince Ferdinand of Brunswick, during that campaign. On May 4, 1762, his lordship was chosen member in the present parliament for Bridgwater, in the room of the earl of Egmont, his father, when called up to the house of peers, in England. And on Tuesday, June 4, 1765, his lordship was married at his father's house, in the admiralty, to the hon. miss Isabella Powlet, daughter and sole heir to the right hon. lord Nassau Powlet (third son of Charles, duke of Bolton, Baron St. John of Basing, &c. &c. who died January 21, 1722) by his wife, the lady Isabella Tufton, one of the daughters and coheirs of Thomas, late earl of Thanet, baron of Clifford, Westmoreland, and Vesey (by the lady Catharine Cavendish, daughter and coheir of Henry, duke of Newcastle) son of John, earl of Thanet, by the lady Margaret Sackville, daughter and heir of Richard earl of Dorset (by Anne, daughter and sole heir of George Clifford, earl of Cumberland.)

Cumberland.) Of which baronies of Clifford, Westmoreland, and Vefey (being all baronies in fee) it may be proper to observe, that by the death of the said Thomas, earl of Thanet, without male issue, they fell into obedience, between the five daughters and coheirs of the said earl, viz. Catharine, who married Lord Sondes, father to the late earl of Rockingham.—Anne, who married James, late earl of Salisbury, and by whom she had Catharine, late countess of Egmont, mother to John, now lord viscount Perceval.—Margaret, countess dowager of Leicester, now living (who obtained of the late king the barony of Clifford, which, having no issue, will fall back again into obedience after her decease).——Mary, who married the late marquis of Harold, son and heir apparent of Henry, duke of Kent (by whom she had no issue,) and afterwards became the wife of John, late earl Gower, whose widow she now remains.—And Isabella, mother, as before-mentioned, of Isabella, now lady Perceval, who therefore has a joint claim in present to the two baronies of Westmoreland and Vefey, and (after the said countess of Leicester) to the barony of Clifford also.—It is likewise not improper further to observe, that in case of failure of issue in Henry, now duke of Bolton, the said Isabella, lady Perceval, will be entitled to the barony of St. John of Basing, in fee, together with the

the great estate, which is settled to descend for ever to the heir of that noble family, under a perpetual entail, by an act of parliament, 27 Hen. VIII.
